

Number : R1-278
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June 15, 1962
Location : Laysan Island, Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Laysan albatross colony. Birds are mostly young which will soon be of flight age. In the air are sooty terns.

Number : R1-282
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 15, 1962
Location : Laysan Island, Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Adult and young Laysan albatrosses.

Number : R1-284
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 14, 1962
Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Adult and young Laysan albatrosses. Vegetation is eragrostis, one of the dominant grasses on Laysan.

Number : R1-287c
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 15, 1962
Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Female monk seal with pup in threat display.
Laysan Island.

Number : RI-2888 series
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 15, 1962
Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge Legend : Hawaiian monk seals resting along the sandy shores of Laysan Island. This is a typical scene along Laysan beaches including the oil barrel washed up by the sea or abandoned by the military.

Number : R1-289
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June 16, 1962
Location : Laysan Island, Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Campsite of refuge inspection team. The young Laysan albatrosses and Laysan ducks were regular occupants or visitors about the tent. The pan of fresh water attracted the ducks which showed little fear.

Number : R1-295
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 15, 1962
Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Pair of Laysan ducks beneath tobacco plant on uplands of Laysan near campsite. This is one of the rarest ducks in the world. The entire world's population is restricted to Laysan and at the time the photograph was taken the population was estimated at 600.

negative no. 148

Number : R1-296
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 18, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Army and Air Force camp on Laysan. This was set up for the Hiran operation and at the time of the photo was due for abandonment. It is located at the landing site on the island near the ironwood tree. The vegetation is a grass know as Eragrostis variabilis, and is typical of the sandy ridges found on the island.

Number : RL-297c
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 15, 1962
Location: Laysan Island, Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Laysan ducks.

Number: R1-298

Photo : David B. Marshall

Date : June 18, 1962

Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge

Legend : Group of white-capped noddies or Hawaiian terns in Scaevola frutescens. This is one of the very few shy species found on the island but nonetheless the photographer was allowed to approach within 30 feet. Laysan Island.

Number : R1-300
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 18, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Fairy terns on Laysan Island. This species has often been described as the most petite and beautiful of any birds found in the Pacific.

Number : R1-301
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 18, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge

Legend : Sooty terns on Laysan Island. This is probably the most abundant nesting species on Laysan.

Number : R1-369

Photo by : David B. Marshall (4X5 made from 35 mm.)

Date : June, 1962

Legend : Hawaiian monk seals on beach on Laysan Island.

Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge

Number : R1-370

Photo by : David B. Marshall (from 35 mm.)

Date : June 1962

Legend : Red-tailed tropicbird in flight. These birds were so tame they could be picked up. (Laysan Island, HINWR)

Number : R1-372 (From R.O. slide 1-1378R)

Date : June 1962

Photo by : David B. Marshall

Legend : Fairy tern in flight, from beach on Laysan Island, Hawaiian Islands
National Wildlife Refuge

Number : R1-373
(From R0 slide 1-1376R)
Date : June, 1962
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Pair of Laysan ducks on Laysan Island

Number : R1-374 (From DBM slide 62-29-35)
Date : June 1962
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Young Laysan albatross teasing adult for food, on Laysan Island.

Number : R1-375 (From DBM slide 62-30-19)
Date : June 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Legend : Hawaiian monk seal female with pup on shore of Laysan Island. The females are aggressive when approached too closely by man.

Number : RL-404

Date : June, 1962

Photo by : David B. Marshall

Legend : Blue-faced booby and baby, on
Laysan Island, Hawaiian Islands
National Wildlife Refuge.

Number : R1-405

Date : June, 1962

Photo by : David B. Marshall

Legend : Hawaiian monk seal, on Laysan Island,
Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge.

1

Number : R1-20-12
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 16, 1962
Location: Hawaiian Island National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Pair of Laysan albatrosses on Laysan Island.

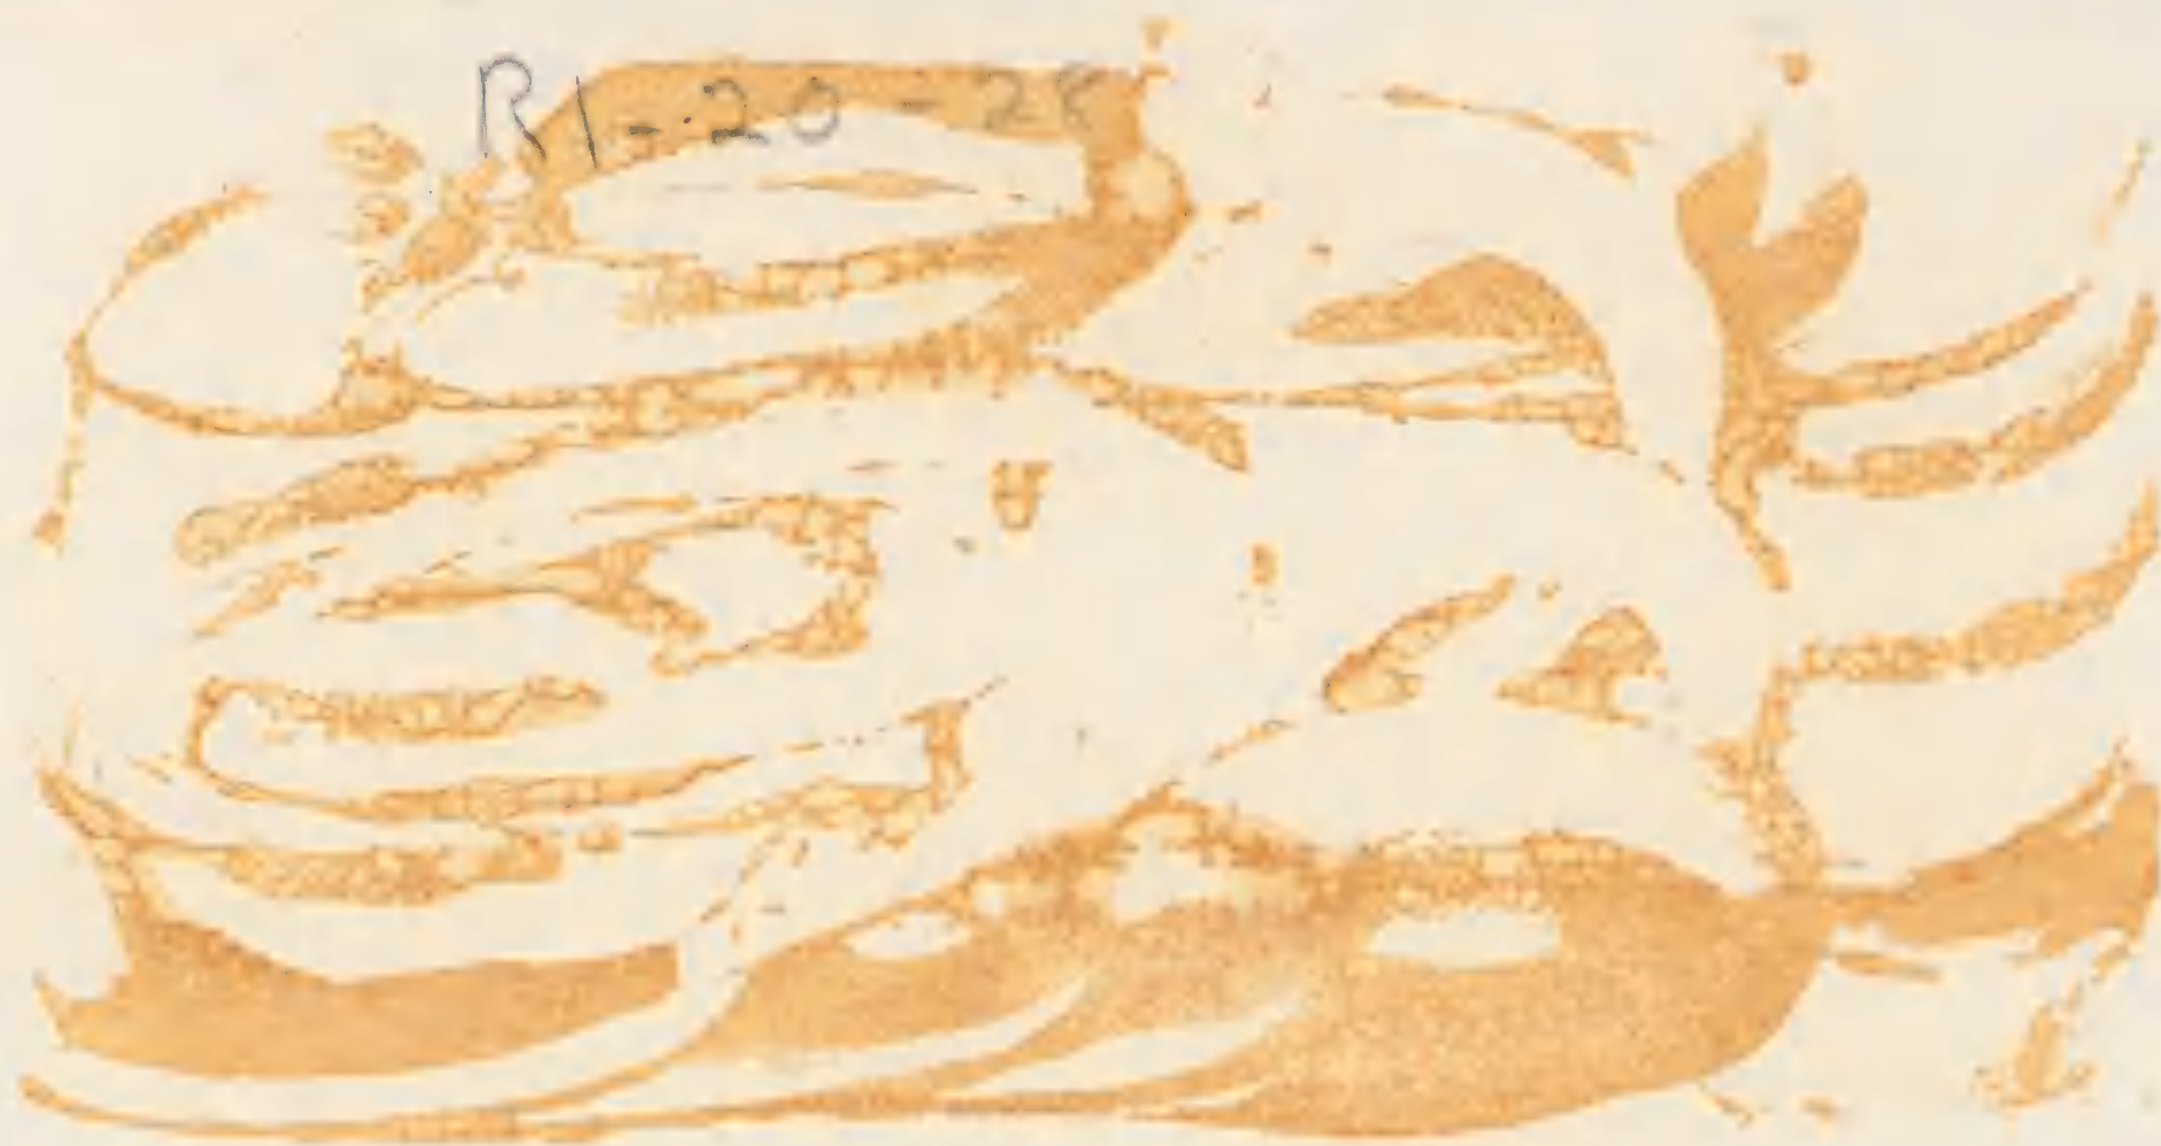

Number : R1-20-13
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge
Legend : Pair of Laysan albatrosses, on Laysan Island.

R1-20-13

R1-20-28

Number: R1-20-28

PHoto : David B. Marshall

Date : June 17, 1962

Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuges

Legend : Close-up of Laysan finch. This bird is abundant on Laysan but is found nowhere else in the world. Consequently it has attracted world-wide interest among ornithologists. A similar finch considered to be by some a species and the other a subspecies, is found on Nihoa. These birds are exceedingly tame. On Laysan they were observed eating seeds, green vegetation and seabird eggs, which they puncture with their bills.

Number : R1-21-8 (#10 sent to CO)
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 17, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Laysan albatross colony on sandy beach, Laysan Island. Wedge-tailed shearwaters and burrow in foreground (left). Colony also contains black-footed albatrosses. Many of the birds shown are young.

R1-21-8

~~R1-21-8~~

Number : R1-21-13
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 17, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge

Legend : Red-tailed tropicbird in coral sand amongst Scaevola bushes on Laysan. Although a skilled aerialist this bird is almost helpless on land and one can often pick them up. The long tail is bright red. Sailors call it a boatswain's bird.

Number : R1-22-3
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June 17, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Wedge-tailed shearwater in burrow,
on Laysan Island.

R1-22-3

RI-22-12

Number : R1-22-12
Photo : David B. Marshall
Date : June 17, 1962
Location: Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge Legend : Planting Chenapodium sandwicheum seed in sand on Laysan. Seed was collected on Nihoa. This plant was formerly abundant on Laysan but exterminated by rabbits during early part of century. By reintro-duction of this plant it is hoped to make the habitat on Laysan suitable for the millerbird. Its re-establishment would return the vegetation of Laysan to approximately its former status. Plant was introduced near lagoon southeast of ironwood tree.

Number : R1-22-21
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June 18, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Male great frigate bird with young in Scaevola frutescens on Laysan Island.

Number : R1-22-23
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Wedge-tailed shearwater in flight over Laysan Island.

R1-22-23

Number : R1-23-1
Date : June 18, 1962
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Brown booby with chick and hatching egg, on Laysan Island.

Number : R1-23-5
Photo by : David B. Marshall
Date : June 18, 1962
Location : Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife
Refuge
Legend : Brown booby in flight, over Laysan Island.

R1-23-5